RE: Letter of Support for Centro Del Pueblo Restoration Project Community Project Funding Request

Dear Speaker Emerita Pelosi,

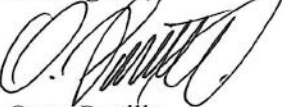

I submit this letter on behalf of Centro Del Pueblo Community Project Funding request for restoration of the building facilities, including tenant and facility improvements.

Centro Del Pueblo is directed by a standing collective of community serving 501(c)(3) nonprofit agencies which includes La Raza Community Resource Center, La Raza Centro Legal and Mission Housing Development Corporation. Collectively, Centro Del Pueblo provides immigration legal services, case management, food and hunger assistance, emergency rental assistance, tenant legal defense, among other services for the 8 organizations within the building.

Centro del Pueblo is requesting congressionally directed community project funding to conduct critically needed repairs to the multi-agency non-profit building's only elevator, roof and leaking walls, to bring the building into compliance with safety standards for professional offices and the current standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Centro Del Pueblo is a centralized community resource center through which 8 local, Mission neighborhood based non-profit organizations, operate and collaborate in the provision of critical social, educational, and legal services to a culturally diverse target population of low-income residents.

I wholeheartedly support Centro Del Pueblo Restoration Project Community Project Funding request. We look forward to continuing our working relationship and collaboration with Centro Del Pueblo for years to come. Please contact me at the information above or directly at oscar@centrodelpueblosf.org and 415.431.1724

Dear Speaker Emerita Pelosi,

I submit this letter on behalf of La Raza Community Resource Center in support of Centro Del Pueblo (CDP) Community Project Funding request for restoration of the building facilities, including tenant and facility improvements.

Centro Del Pueblo is directed by a standing collective lasting 34 years of community serving 501(c)(3) nonprofit agencies which includes La Raza Community Resource Center, La Raza Centro Legal, and Mission Housing Development Corporation. Collectively, CDP provides immigration legal services, case management, food and hunger assistance, emergency rental assistance, tenant legal defense, among other direct services for the 8 organizations within the building. We see more than 30,000 visitors collectively each year.

Centro del Pueblo (CDP) is requesting congressionally directed community project funding to conduct critically needed repairs to the multi-agency non-profit building's only elevator, roof and leaking walls, to bring the building into compliance with safety standards for professional offices and the current standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act. RE: Letter of Support for Centro Del Pueblo Restoration Project Community Project Funding Request

Dear Speaker Emerita Pelosi,

On behalf of La Raza Centro Legal San Francisco, we submit this letter in support of Centro Del Pueblo (CDP) Community Project Funding request for restoration of the building facilities, which include tenant and facility improvements. Centro Del Pueblo is directed by agencies who own the building – together they have their own 501(c)(3). This CDP non-profit entity has existed for 34 years, and during this time has served the community with critical needs including a food pantry, tenant assistance, literacy programs, free legal representation and more. Specifically, the owner agencies include La Raza Community Resource Center, La Raza Centro Legal, and Mission Housing Development Corporation, among others. Collectively, CDP provides immigration legal services, case management, food and hunger assistance, emergency rental assistance, free legal representation for elders, the disabled, and low-wage workers, and other direct services in the 8 organizations within the building. We serve more than 30,000 visitors collectively each year. Centro del Pueblo (CDP) is requesting congressionally directed community project funding to conduct critically needed repairs to the multi-agency non-profit building's only elevator, roof and leaking walls, to bring the building into compliance with safety standards for professional offices and the current standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act. RE: Letter of Support for Centro Del Pueblo Restoration Project
CommunityProject Funding Request

Dear Speaker Emerita Pelosi,

On behalf of Reading Partners San Francisco Bay Area (SFBA), a 501(c)(3) community-based nonprofit in San Francisco, we submit this letter in support of Centro Del Pueblo (CDP)'s Community Project Funding request for the restoration of its building facilities.

CDP is the 501(c)(3) nonprofit entity that owns the Valencia Street building in the Mission District. The owner agencies include La Raza Community Resource Center, La Raza Centro Legal and Mission Housing Development Corporation. CDP provides critical linguistically and culturally appropriate safety net services to low income residents of San Francisco, such as food and hunger assistance and emergency rental assistance. In addition, the eight long-standing nonprofit community organizations housed at CDP provide free legal services to limited English proficient immigrants, individuals with disabilities and the elderly. Reading Partners SFBA strongly supports CDP's request for congressionally directed community project funding to conduct critically needed repairs to the building. The project includes repairing the sole elevator and roof and leaking walls, in addition to bringing the building into compliance with safety standards for professional offices and the current standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Please contact me at hector.salazar@readingpartners.org or 510.213.1696 if you have additional questions.

Thank you for your consideration.

With gratitude,

La Raza Community Resource Center is an Affiliate of UnidosUS, the largest civil rights organization focused on advancing the wellbeing of Latino communities across the country. We partner with Affiliates like La Raza Community Resource Center on initiatives that will have transformational impact on their communities. Latino-serving community organizations have historically experienced underfunding to support programming, but also to strengthen their physical and operational infrastructures, which are critical to providing effective services. As was evident during the COVID-19 pandemic, it is precisely these types of organizations that we rely upon to offer critical and trusted support to vulnerable members in the community. Strong community-based organizations are key to addressing disparities, building strong communities and advancing equity.

UnidosUS supports this funding request for the Centro Del Pueblo (CDP) Restoration Project Community Project. If you have any questions, please contact me at icuyun@unidosus.org.
